Paul Helmlinger enjoys a smile with Esther the Easter Bunny during an afternoon of Bunny visits.

The bunny sneaks up on Tom Hooper.

Bunny Esther kicks up her foot on Missy Clevenger as Marty Spees and Julie Grubb look on.

Jason, grandson of Marty Spees, likes the bunny's lap.

"me and my family enjoyed coming to the nursing home on easter Sunday, thank you for inviting the public to see the Easter bunny...my family really enjoyed it and the kids were so happy."

I am a graduate of James A. Rhodes State College and licensed as a Physical Therapist Assistant. I am also the Director of Rehab at the Wapakoneta Manor. I have worked with a variety of patient populations in several therapy settings, including inpatient rehab, outpatient rehab, schools, home health and long term care. I chose to become a PTA because I greatly enjoy helping people to reach their maximal potential in life. Working with others to improve their quality of life is very rewarding. I love to see people return to their homes and it's nice to hear their stories of long ago.

I graduated from Rhodes State College as a Physical Therapist Assistant. I am currently attending The Ohio State University pursuing a Bachelor's Degree in Health Care Management. I chose my profession because I had a desire to help people. While I have worked in multiple settings over the years, I find geriatric rehab to be the most rewarding. I have been privileged to witness some amazing moments over the years, some of which have brought me to tears. I love my job, and I would recommend this profession to anyone!

A Mother's Love
Your arms were always open when I needed a hug. Your heart understood when I needed a friend. Your gentle eyes were stern when I needed a lesson. Your strength and love has guided me and gave me wings to fly.
